McKernan has blast at Sunday River

Maine Governor John R. McKernan, Jr., and over 175 visitors, including state and local officials, local business people and Bethel area citizens, joined Sunday River personnel last Friday in formal groundbreaking ceremonies for the Sunday River Express detachable quad chairlift at a Maine or New Hampshire ski resort.

Governor McKernan detonated a charge that cleared the way for the drive station and the first tower at the base of the $1.5 million chairlift.

In remarks prior to pushing a detonator plunger that set off a series of events leading to the dynamite excavation, Governor McKernan told the assembled visitors and skiway personnel that tourism means more jobs for Mainers and Sunday River is a major force in providing more jobs in western Maine.

He said the tourism industry is a good example of cooperation between private business and state government. While it is up to private enterprise to provide the facilities for tourists, it is up to the state to provide good roads to bring the tourists to the facilities. (Gordon Clapp, the governor's new director of tourism, told The Citizen his budget has doubled this year and he expects to double the amount of money the state spends on tourism promotion, especially trying to promote the interior sections of the state as four-season tourism destinations.)

The governor noted that the last time the state's chief executive had been to Sunday River was for the inauguration of the original chairlift, in 1972, when then-Governor Kenneth Curtis was the guest of honor. Governor McKernan said he was pleased to see the skiway changing from Democrat to Republican.

Just as the governor was getting ready to set off the blast that began the excavation for the new chairlift, a terrific blast emanated from the side of South Ridge where the ceremony was being held. It was Jim Hudson touching off his cannon, that he had brought up for the occasion.

"Doc" Hudson had been the president of the skiway in 1972, and one way called the cannon "fastlane" the Democratic response—"although it came just before the Republican explosion."

The Sunday River Express, being built by Lift Engineering of Carson City, Nev., and Sunday River lift construction crews, is replacing the Barker Mountain double chairlift. Sunday River's first chairlift built in 1972. The lift will travel 4,227 feet over the Agony trail on a vertical rise of 1,402 feet. Three thousand

MNRC launches local campaign vs. Maine Yankee

Alva Morrison, of the Maine Nuclear Referendum Committee, met with local volunteers Sunday night at the Casco Bank to plan strategy for the upcoming referendum on closing Maine Yankee. The referendum question asks voters if they are in favor of allowing a facility that produces high-level nuclear waste, such as Maine Yankee, to continue in operation past next July.

While two attempts in the past to close Maine Yankee via referendum have both failed, Mr. Morrison told the local volunteers that polls taken last fall indicate a majority of Mainers are now in favor of closing down the state's only nuclear power plant. [The Wiscasset plant, when it is running at full output, produces about one-quarter of the state's electricity. It is licensed to remain in operation until 2004. It is owned by a number of utilities, chief among whom is Central Maine Power.]

Mr. Morrison said it was the public outcry against the federal government's inclusion of the Sebago Lake area as a possible high-level nuclear waste site that galvanized public opinion against Maine Yankee. He pointed out that Maine Yankee is the only producer of high-level nuclear waste in the state.

Steering committee selected at meeting of lakes association

At Saturday's meeting of the budding local lakes association, the 40-50 people who attended selected a steering committee to come up with recommendations on by-laws and a slate of officers. The committee is to report back to the larger group at a Sept. 5 general meeting.

Among those who attended the meeting at the Woodstock town hall were residents of Lake Christopher, North and South Ponds and Concord Pond. Organizer Mark Hing said he also had inquiries from Shagg Pond. He termed the meeting "very successful."

In addition to appointing the steering committee, the general meeting discussed the problem of water quality and the need for monitoring the water in the local lakes and ponds. They also discussed the problem of speedboats and water skiers coming close to swimmers.

The proposal had met with opposition from environmental, boating and fishing groups throughout New England. At a hearing last August in Andover, community officials were met by angry comments from those opposed to the idea of reducing the flow in the Rapid River.

A note from the publisher

Those people who complained about the cool weather last summer are hopefully enjoying the heat wave of the past week-and-a-half.

One nice thing about the heat is it gives you a chance to be thankful that you don't live in—say—Boston, or New York, or Washington D.C. When it's hot here, it's miserable in the big cities to the south.

Despite the heat and humidity in the nation's capital, however, Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North remained cool as a cucumber. I guess it was his coolness under fire, plus his boyish good looks, plus his earnestness that has endeared him to the American public.

It seems that the whole nation took time out during the heat wave to watch the drama unfolding in Washington as the joint Select Committee of the House and Senate tried to find out what the Executive Branch of government had been doing without the consent of Congress.

Because of our predilection to root for the underdog, many Americans found themselves siding with the highly sympathetic witness, Oliver North—thus losing sight of the issues.

The issues, of course, are: Can any organ of government—other than the Congress—appropriate funds for government projects? And: Can the executive branch of government disregard laws of the nation?

Too often during the testimony of Lt. Col. North it was made to appear that the basic question was whether or not the executive branch of government is allowed to carry out covert operations. That is not the issue.

Of course the executive branch of government is allowed to carry out covert operations—as long as those operations have not been forbidden by law, and as long as those operations have received proper funding.

Shipping arms to Iran may or may not have been a good idea, but it was forbidden by law. Shipping arms to the Contras may or may not have been a good idea, but Congress had seen fit to withhold funding for such operations.

It is foolish to argue that the money given to the Contras by the U.S. was anything but misappropriated U.S. funds. The money was gathered by selling Pentagon weapons to Iran. The profits from those weapons sales belong, of course, to the U.S. government.

Can you imagine any of our local boards of selectmen selling off some town property and then using the pro-

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On behalf of my husband and myself, I write to express our appreciation, in general, for the hospitality afforded by the community of Bethel on each occasion we have visited, and in particular, for the unique kindnesses rendered by two individuals on our visit last weekend.

Special thanks to Pete Matthews, golf pro at the Bethel Inn & Country Club, who honored a request to keep an eye out for a sun visor of sentimental value which I carelessly left behind on the course. He returned it to me through the mail early in the week.

Special thanks too, to Sam Westleigh, and his employees, who came to our aid when our car failed to start as we prepared to travel home on Sunday. We had to leave the car with him to be serviced during the week. Though he was in a position to exercise the upper hand in this situation, Mr. Westleigh who owns and operates the Irving Gas Station in the center of town accurately diagnosed and corrected the problem, cordially and fairly. On the day of our ill-fated trip home, Mr. Westleigh's trip home, Mr. Westleigh's young employee was also cordial and helpful.

In this day and age, when stories of thoughtlessness and greed abound, we are particularly gratified to be so well-treated by the likes of Messrs. Westleigh and Matthews and all the other pleasant people whom we have encountered. Thank you, Bethel. You have a special place in our hearts.

seeds to fund an operation that town meeting had not approved? And yet there are apparently quite a number of Americans willing to believe that President Reagan's appointed officials were within their rights in acting in ways we would not allow our local elected officials to act.

It is a wonderful bit of irony that these important hearings currently going on in Washington come at a time when the nation is celebrating the 200th anniversary of our Constitution. Just as the framers of the Constitution fought tooth and nail over who would have what political rights (slaves and women received none, you will recall), the Select Committee is now engaged in similar combat with the Executive Branch of government in trying to decide who's allowed to do what.

The beauty of our system of checks and balances is that these battles can go on without bloodshed, and for the good of the country.

Olde Home Day at Andover Aug. 1

Final plans for the 8th annual Andover Olde Home Day have been completed according to Jane Rich, general chairman. The year's event will be held on Saturday, Aug. 1.

The theme for this year's parade is "Summertime." The parade has been divided into three divisions. Each division has a chairman: floats—Fred Emerson; antique autos and custom cars—Merton Perkins; horses and ponies, The Ellis River Riders. Marching units will include the East Butterfield Militia, a snowshoe club from Lewiston, the Jackson-Silver Post #68 color guard from Locke Mills, the Oxford County Shrine Club Clowns. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded in all three divisions and anyone is welcome to participate. Registration forms are available in local stores.

The Professional Woodsman's Contest, under the direction of Rex Thurston is being entirely sponsored by the Communications Satellite Corporation (COMSAT), which according to Chairman Rich, "made the fund raising for this year a snap." It costs approximately $1,800 to bring the events of the day together for the public. Other contributors this year include Andover Wood Products and Boise Cascade. Additional funds were made available by the town of Andover, other town organizations and clubs and the sale of bumper stickers and buttons.

Other events include a quilt show, flower show, fireman's muster, chicken barbecue, cow chip flip, arm wrestling, penny carnival, flea market and Ladies' Aid sale. The day's activities will include a dance at 9 p.m. at the fire station.

Any craftsman willing to demonstrate their craft will be given free space in the

Kenneth Curtis to inaugurate Sunday River's first chairlift. Gov. McKernan presided over the inaugural groundbreaking for the skiway's eighth chairlift.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is a description of Queen Anne's special friend, Sarah the Duchess of Marlborough—

"Her skin was the purest alabaster, her eyes a flashing blue. Her nose, very regular, intensified one's sense of her force of character; her lips, sensuous and beautifully molded, were cherry red and the least bit pouting. Her hair was golden. Her voice was rich and warm. She was, in brief, a magnificent creature. Like a goddess."

Visit the Woodstock Museum 1-4 p.m. Saturdays. It is the place "where the past is always present."

skiers per hour will ascend at average speeds of 900 feet per minute reaching the summit of Barker Mountain in 5 1/2 minutes, a 50 percent reduction in ride time from the original double chairlift. The Sunday River Express represents 30 percent of Sunday River's total uphill lift capacity, or 4.2 million vertical transport feet (VTF). VTF is the accepted ski industry standard for measuring uphill lift capacity. Based on current capacity at other Maine and New Hampshire ski areas, Sunday River will maintain number one position in uphill lift capacity in Maine and New Hampshire. This high capacity lift will insure that lift lines will average less than eight minutes over the course of the busiest skiing day.

The Sunday River Express is the focal point for this summer's $24.8 million expansion at the Novey resort. This is the largest expansion at any northeast ski resort in a single season. In addition to the Sunday River Express, the $5 million mountain expansion includes a 3,715' fixed grip quad chairlift, five new trails, 55 acres of additional snowmaking, a new condominium check-in facility at the South Ridge base area and expansion and renovations at the Barker Mtn. base lodge. Condominium expansion valued at $19.8 million includes studio, one and two bedroom units in the Brookside Condominium complex at the base of the new fixed grip quad chairlift, the completion of the two bedroom North Peak project, luxury one and two bedroom units in Merrill Brook village and a 300,000 gallon waste water treatment facility. ## MNRC launches local campaign

"We can win this thing," he said, but it will be necessary to keep voters focused on the issue of nuclear waste—both high-level and low-level.

High-level waste is mainly the fuel rods that cause the fissioning process in a power plant, which boils water, which is used to produce steam, which drives turbines connected to generators. After three years of fissioning, the nuclear fuel in the rods has mostly been changed to other compounds that do not lend themselves to heating water. This is the deadly high-level nuclear waste, which can either be converted into weapons-grade plutonium (as is done in Europe), or stored away from people (as is done in the U.S.).

The major problem is that the high-level waste remains radioactive for 10,000 years. In 1982, Congress voted to find and establish a site in the western U.S. to store the deadly waste in deep bedrock. In the same bill, the Congress authorized the Department of Energy to search for a site outside the western U.S. to act as a second repository for high-level waste, if needed.

Two areas in Maine—Sebago Lake and the Bottle Lakes region—were on the DOE's short list of potential sites for the second repository and public hearings were held in the winter and spring of 1986 at which the public both criticized the idea that nuclear waste could be safely buried for 10,000 years as well as the idea of burying it in Maine. Under great public pressure, DOE officials finally said they would put the search for a second site on hold.

This angered the western states, who did not want to be the only ones in the running for the dubious honor of containing the deadly wastes from the rest of the country—and from some foreign countries as well. The western states have now taken the DOE to court over the entire selection process.

DOE officials have said it matters not at all in the selection process whether or not a state produces high-level nuclear waste. They have also pointed out, however, that it makes little sense for residents of a state to complain about storing waste if an entity in that state is helping to produce it.

Mr. Morrison said Maine Yankee supporters will be pointing out that any sudden shutdown of the plant will cause an economic burden on electricity users in the state, as utility companies will have to pay more for power elsewhere. He said he doesn't buy this argument, and he pointed out that Maine Yankee has been shut down for repairs for the past few months and the state is still being adequately supplied with power.

Mr. Morrison said local people should be especially concerned about the continued operation of Maine Yankee because of the state's selection of a site along the Sunday River as a potential dumpsite for low-level nuclear waste. Low-level waste is that waste other than the spent nuclear fuel itself. It includes spills of contaminated water, mops and rags used to clean up such spills, and contaminated protective clothing. Low-level waste is placed in containers and buried in landfills; it remains radioactive for a few hundred years.

Currently the state's low-level waste—most of it from Maine Yankee but with small amounts from a half-dozen laboratories around the state—is shipped to a waste site in South Carolina. But, in accordance with a new federal law, all states that produce low-level waste will have to set up their own waste sites by 1996, unless they have joined in regional compacts with neighbors to set up a regional site.

To date, Maine has not joined in a regional compact, and it would therefore become necessary for the state to begin selecting potential sites for storing low-level nuclear waste. The selection process is supposed to be well underway by next year and should be completed by 1993. By 1996 a low-level waste site is supposed to be operational.

Mr. Morrison said the only way to avoid having such a site is to close down Maine Yankee. Maine Yankee officials, on the other hand, argue that the state will still have to have a low-level waste site to handle the waste from the half-dozen laboratories. Mr. Morrison said even if that turns out to be the case, the amount of waste to be stored at Sunday River—or wherever the waste site is located—would be greatly reduced without the waste from Maine Yankee.

"There's danger that people don't understand that the plans for a low-level dump site at Sunday River are still very real," he told the MNRC supporters.

These supporters will, in coming weeks, place donation buckets around town and hold a fund-raising bean supper and contra dance.

Mr. Morrison said he hopes to raise significant funds in the Bethel area for the referendum campaign, and he expects a strong "no" vote locally on the Maine Yankee question.

Local woodsmen needed for Mollycokett Day
lumberjack competition

With the decision of the Bethel Rotary Club to return the traditional Mollycokett Day lumberjack competition to local competitors, the sponsors urge area woodsmen to enter as soon as possible.

All interested woodsmen from the area should pick up an entry form (no entry fee) at either Kendall Insurance, Maine Line Products, or Prim's.

The contests are being set-up so that the average woodsman will be able to compete without purchasing any special equipment. Everyday chainsaws and log rollers will be used during the competition this year, scheduled for Bethel Common on Saturday, July 18.

There will be five events in this year's contest: Tree Fell, Tree Cut, Pulp Throw, Log Rolling, and Straight Cut. The prizes will be $50 for first in each event, $25 for second, and $10 for third. The overall Lumberjack of the Year, determined on a point basis, will receive $100. The events are again sponsored in part by Federal Distributors of Lewiston.

Encourage your neighbor to compete!

Mollyockett Day

Celebrate with us on Bethel's most festive occasion.

Bethel Senior Citizens

Wednesday, July 8, was a beautiful day for a picnic and over 50 Bethel Senior Citizens met at the Powell Campground in Hanover for a very enjoyable outing.

President Virginia Walker conducted a short business meeting where reports were read and Joan Coolidge reported on a successful bus trip to St. Johnsbury, Vt., on June 17 with 41 travelers. Lunch was enjoyed with the senior citizens at the center, formerly the St. Johnsbury House, and the program at the Planetarium at the Fairbanks Museum was a highlight as well as the Maple Sugar House and the ride to Vermont with the fields of lupines on the way.

After the meeting a buffet of salads, hot dishes, cakes, and lunch along with barbecued hamburgers and hot dogs by Harold Powell and Tony Pugliese made a beautiful meal under the tarpaulin. The program consisted of a brown bag auction with Peggy Coolidge serving as auctioneer.

The next meeting of the Bethel Senior Citizens will be Wednesday, Aug. 12, at the Country Way in South Paris with Ed Sims of Augusta speaking on "Nursing Homes and Alternatives," and music by Virginia Walker.

Members are reminded that the WMTS bus to Lewiston at 8:45 on Monday, and to Rumford after dinner at the meal site on Tuesday is still available to all, not just senior citizens, at a very reasonable rate. Call 1-800-482-0170 for information.

NEWS FROM BETHEL AREA
Health Center

Swimmer's ear is a disease in which the skin lining the ear canal becomes red and swollen. It can result from scratching your ears or cleaning them too firmly, but it is most often caused by water being in the ear canal for a long time. The water lessens the skin's normal acidity and cause the top layer of skin to come off.

People ordinarily get swimmer's ear in the summer when they are in and out of pools many times a day. Chlorine that is added to pool water to kill unhealthy bacteria also kills helpful bacteria that lives in the ear canal.

The combination of the lack of acid, lack of helpful bacteria, and less of skin cells means the skin has lost its normal function. It then becomes red and raw, which causes pain and itching in the outer ear.

You can probably cure a mild case of swimmer's ear at home. Don't scratch or clean your ear, and if you are swimming a lot, stop. Wash out the ear with a warm solution of one tablespoon white vinegar and one tablespoon water, or with Vaseline from the drug store. This will clear out wax and dead skin cells and will allow the ear to dry. It will also help the skin maintain its normal acid level.

If the problem doesn't begin to clear up in several days or is very painful, see the doctor. He/she may wash out the ear with acetic acid (vinegar) and water, then give you a prescription for ear drops. The drops are put in 3-4 times a day for five or six days. The drops contain steroids to reduce the swelling which in turn reduces the pain and itching. The drop also contains an antibiotic in case there is a bacterial infection. It may be more comfortable to warm the ear drops before putting them in. Hold the bottle in your hand or put it in warm water for a few minutes.

Prevention:
Be very gentle when you clean your ears, and never use sharp objects to do it. In fact, doctors now recommend that you do not even use cotton swabs since ear wax comes out by itself. It's enough to wash your outer ears with a washcloth. Cotton swabs can irritate the lining of your ears.

Whenever you swim, make sure you get all the water out of your ears when you come out of the water. If one of your ears is blocked with water, try tugging at your earlobe or tilt your head to one side and hop up and down on the foot on that side. You will feel the water come out.

Some doctors recommend that children who have gotten swimmer's ear several times put two or three drops of equal parts vinegar and 70 percent alcohol in their ears before and after swimming. Doctors also warn against using cotton or poor fitting earplugs.

How time has flown this summer. It doesn't seem possible that it can be July and the middle of the hot summer, though there have been times when it wasn't too hot. It just seems to be hard to believe that time has gone so fast.

Started packing up some of Kariann's things on Thursday, preparing for her folks getting home on Friday and taking her home, also. She felt better so took her outside to play what I could. I'm afraid she doesn't have the chance to get out side as much at home so we take advantage of it when she is up here. How she loves to swing! She is as bad as I used to be when I was a girl. The big chain swing that Father put up between two large trees at the end of the house was my joy. I could swing on it for hours, given the chance, and the girls are the same. Both of them are always wanting to swing when they get up here and enjoy the fun they have on the trees that are hanging (one in our yard and one in the Lawrence's) here for their use as well as others who may come. It brings back fond memories while pushing them and seeing them have so much fun.

Friday morning, I packed the rest of Kariann's things and after lunch, put them into the car and with Peggy as chauffeur, we headed for Lewiston to leave the load of things at home before going to the airport to meet Michael and Wynona. Their plane was right on time and we were soon on our way back to Lewiston from Portland and the car was loaded again with suitcases etc. Mike and Nonie had a good time visiting with Tom in Colorado but were glad to be getting home and seeing the girls. Courtney had to wait for them to come get her on Saturday but Kariann was more than glad to see Mom and Dad, even if she did have a good time with Uncle Joe and her Nana. She liked her Aunt Peg, too, and let her know it.

Mike and Nonie took Peggy and I to supper at York Steak house before going home but we were soon on our way to West Paris as Peggy was going to go to Grange with Russell. He had agreed to help on the degree team at West Paris and as it is hard for him to drive, Peggy went to do that. It was a special meeting and first and second degrees were worked on several candidates for different Grades.

Saturday afternoon was like an old fashioned afternoon might have been years ago. Peggy, Russell and I went down to visit with Carl and Lettie Brooks. We talked about a lot of things during that visit and enjoyed every minute of it. Wouldn't mind having a repeat of it sometime soon.

Peggy went down to spend the evening and stay over night at her daughter Myrna's home and came home on Sunday. Had washing that needed doing on Sunday so got it done then used my ambition to freeze a few packages of rhubarb. It has done so well this summer and we have eaten rhubarb and strawberry sauce a lot.

Made my usual weekly trip to North Bridgton on Monday but didn't expect to see my sister, Laura, there. She had been camping with her grandchildren and had put her back out of place so needed treatment from the doctor to help get over it.

That seems to be what grandchildren can do for us Grandmas. Don't like to see her have any back trouble but was glad to see her just the same. We don't get to visit often enough. Stopped in town to do a few errands on the way home. Russell helped Peggy to make some shelves in her new storage shed during the afternoon and on Tuesday. Also worked in the garden what he could.

It seems this is the week for seeing doctors as Peggy went for her annual check up on Tuesday and I did some errands about town while she was so occupied.

Wednesday and we were up early and on the road for Lewiston where Peggy and Russell had some appointments with the eye doctor. Getting there at 8:15 in the morning, means leaving here at a good season but we were all "up and at em," so to speak. While in Lewiston, we did a little shopping around and had lunch out. It always tastes so good when I eat out that I ate too much and felt full all afternoon.

Peggy had callers in the afternoon as her daughter and husband, Myrna and Bernard White of Auburn came for a visit. Russell and I joined them on Peggy's deck and we had a nice visit.

Looks like we have got to find time to freeze beet greens soon. Russell covered the plants with some special cloth to keep the leaf miners off and they have grown very fast. By the looks of them, we should have a good abundance to freeze. Hope so anyway.

It is early to mention it yet but hope folks who like a variety show will mark Aug. 13 down on their calendars. Franklin Grange and Woodstock Historical Society are planning a variety show and hoping to have a good crowd. It will be to benefit both organizations. There will be music, comedy, and what ever we can come up with for good family entertainment, so keep it in mind.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Yates are entertaining guests this week. They made so many friends when out on the road trucking and these are some they met that way. Hope they all have a wonderful time.

Glen Virge of Nashua, N.H., spent the weekend with the Archie Lovejoys. I don't know how many have been picking strawberries at Erlon Whitman's but Peggy went up one day and picked three quarts and said there were others there at the time. I know several around have gone to get some of his good berries.

Remember the dances at West Paris Grange Hall the first Saturday of each month. I was told there was a small crowd this past Saturday but a good time was had by all and the door prize was three lobsters. A real good prize for the lucky winner.

The weather man says today, Thursday will be hot and Friday even hotter. Put on the shorts and keep cool if you can. Sounds like nice swimming weather for one and all.

Take care and don't stay out in the sun too long. The more I hear of it causing cancer, the less I want to see people bathing in it to get a tan. Why take chances?

As I write this the sky is again weeping and the east wind sings a dirge. It hasn't been that way all of the week. Several times there was the down pour of vivid sunlight in colorful clouds, clouds of evening and in the song as the west wind harping among the leaves.

I like golden sunsets beneath a sea of crimson clouds fading, as I try to imprint them in my memory.

Beyond, in view is a chain of hills. They rise gently in hummocks and peace walks among them.

Roses have been so beautiful on days when the morning sun in a heart-bursting dance skimmed over the lawn under a cloudless sky. But the rains have made them droopy.

Buttercups are growing near-by interlacing their gold with the silver of daisies.

Bees hummed among all of the flowers and birds vied among themselves as they sang high in the blue air.

As I walked across the lawn, I found a robin's egg speared upon a piece of tall grass, swaying gently like some exotic harebell.

Country sights and sounds contribute to inner happiness.

Beethoven and Brahms featured July 21 at chamber music festival

The second program of the Sebago Long Lake Region Chamber Music Festival's 1987 season will be given on Tuesday, July 21, at 8 p.m., in the Bridgton Academy Chapel, North Bridgton. Participating artists are Frieda and Stephen Manes, piano; Paul Wolfe and Dennis Decharto, violins; Laurie Kennedy, viola; and James Kennedy, cello.

Frieda and Stephen Manes will open the concert with Beethoven's Three Marches Opus 45 for piano, Four Hands. This will be followed by a late 19th composition of Dmitri Shostakovich, the String Quartet in C minor, Opus 10.

Following the intermission, the Johannes Brahms Trio in G major, Opus 37 for piano, violin and cello will be presented by Stephen Manes, Paul Wolfe and James Kennedy.

This rewarding evening of chamber music is being sponsored by the Hancock Lumber Co. and by the generous grant from the Maine Arts Commission.

Tickets are $7 apiece. Do come early if you wish to buy single admission tickets as seats are limited in number.

The glorious 4th has gone and it was very quiet here. There were family gatherings for cook-outs, boating and swimming.

On Sunday, David, Sally and Mary Holt were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt.

Rena and Fred Curtis have moved back to their home on Hayes Hill. They are very grateful to all who helped them since the fire which burned their home April 26.

Callers at the home of Dorothy Curtis were: Evelyn Heikkinen, Mexico; Ernest Curtis, Poland; Donald Bowman, Canton; Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Fred, Rena, Kathy Curtis, Eva Felton, Local. Ann Holt left Sunday for Portland where she will take a course of study at U.M.

My brother Ernest Curtis came to see me this week and also called to see his brother Fred.

John and Dot Betts are home again after their trip to some of the western states.

You have heard of folks like Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn attending their own funerals which is bizarre enough but Bill Wood witnessed what appeared to be a celebration of his demise. He wishes folks to know he is alive and well.

Jim Goodnough and assistant Gary of the KIS photo center of Colebrook was at the Wood home to take pictures. After the business was complete, and the furniture replaced, Jim fell victim of a massive heart attack. Ellie Lecomte, R.N. arrived within minutes but was unable to revive him. The ambulance, sheriff, and coroner and authorities arrived in due time which set off a rumor that Bill had fallen victim of self-inflicted wound.

Lillian, Sherry, Isaac, Stephen and Seth Abbott of East Sumner called at Heritage Farm. The ladies picked berries and the kiddos checked out the toy box after they picked a few fat berries for their tummy box. Lillian said her husband, Sidney, is in a Lewiston hospital with a broken back resulting from a fall off a hay load.

The Frank Tuckers visited the Berniers one afternoon. Phyllis is taking treatment following a mastectomy, is looking great and in her usual fine spirits. Frankie is recovering from a by-pass operation and it seems like they've had their quota of foul balls.

The Gays spent a few days at their camp. Glenn is much improved from her operation several weeks earlier.

The Camerons of Nashua were at their camp several days.

The Ray Berniers spent a week's vacation at their home. They got the rest of the electrical work done and made arrangements for other work.

John and Debbie Clark and children Dieder and Jim are at the Tripp camp for a week. They are putting the place in order for others in the family who are coming later this month.

We are close to the 500 mark on berry picking and about half way through the season. Next year should be even better.

From the Bethel Area
Chamber of Commerce

The Board of Directors met last Thursday at the Casco Bank and the following issues were discussed.

Blue Cross/Blue Shield has put together a very good benefit proposal for chamber members. We are in the process of compiling all the information and will send out a summary with a cover letter shortly.

The Community Relations Committee has been actively putting their ideas together, and starting July 21, each week in The Bethel Citizen, there will be a special article on a Chamber member. The committee presently has three months of businesses that they will be doing. We feel this is an excellent opportunity for everyone to get familiar with all the businesses in the area. Also in the works is putting together a welcome brochure.

The Advertising Committee will try being more aggressive with the summer and fall months. We have to make people aware of all the things the Bethel area has to offer.

Cathy Newell reported the Business Survey has had a good response. Over 100 businesses have completed the questionnaires sent to them. The responses are being fed into a computer for tabulating.

The Innkeepers held a few meetings this past month and decided to go with a central reservation service. Pledges were made from area businesses to start this up. It is a necessary service that will keep us competitive with other ski areas.

The Kennebec Girl Scout Council has mailed out cards asking for contributions. You should have received it in the mail two weeks ago.

We still need volunteers for Mollycockett Day. An information booth will be set up. Anyone who wants their brochures on the table should bring them to the office before Saturday or bring them over to the table Saturday morning.

The Big E in Springfield, Mass., is fast approaching—in September. We need volunteers to man the booth. Lodging will be paid in full by the chamber, as will a percentage of meals and transportation. Call the office and get further details if you're interested in going.

The Bethel Area Steam Era Railroadiana Museum is now located on Main Street. Contributions are needed. It will be at this location until Oct. 15 and then it will go to the Bethel Historical Society.

The Upon Playhouse has held four of its eight performances for children and adults. Hopefully you have been able to attend or are planning to do so. We would like to see this continued over the years, so please support Sally Rollinson in her efforts to bring summer theater to Bethel.

The Rotary's Spanish Youth Exchange visitors arrived July 10 and a schedule has been made that will keep them busy during their visit.

The next meeting will be Aug. 13, 7:30 a.m., at the Casco Bank. All are welcome.

Rotary Club notes

The guest speaker at the Bethel Rotary Club's Tuesday morning meeting at Martha's Restaurant was Fred Nader, president of National Training Labs.

Mr. Nader noted that people from all over the world know about Bethel from having attended labs and workshops here. He pointed out, however, that labs and workshops are only part of the business of NTL, which is a private, non-profit, educational organization.

Mr. Nader said the organization also devotes itself to degree programs in human resources development, conferences, research, and publication of research by its 326 members.

He said NTL has three main objectives:

- 1) democracy—particularly respect for differences among individuals;
- 2) science—to find the truth, and to speak it;
- 3) relationships—improve relationships between people.

The basic question facing NTL is, Mr. Nader said, "How do you make change happen in a way that's non-destructive and productive?"

NTL members attempt to teach what they learn about this basic question to over two thousand students each year—about a third of whom come to Bethel to study.

NTL members also are donating their time in training projects in China and South Africa. In the latter country, NTL—in cooperation with the Episcopal Church—is working with 40 black South Africans, training them for leadership roles in the society that will emerge after Apartheid ends. In China the NTL members are working with business leaders.

Mr. Nader said NTL does not only preach to others but also tries to live up to its own preaching. Thus, the group stresses the acceptance of minorities in its membership and demands that 50 percent of its board is made up of women.

"We try to live our values," Mr. Nader said.

During hot and humid weather, a buildup in body heat can cause heat stroke or heat exhaustion, particularly in the elderly. This is especially true of those with heart and circulatory disease, stroke or diabetes.

Heat-Related Illnesses—Heat stroke is a medical emergency requiring immediate attention and treatment by a doctor. Among the symptoms are: faintness, dizziness, headache, nausea, loss of consciousness, body temperature of 104°F (40°C) or higher, measured rectally, rapid pulse, and flushed skin.

Heat Exhaustion—takes no longer to develop than other heat-related illnesses. It results from a loss of body water and salt. The symptoms include: weakness, heavy sweating, nausea, and giddiness. Heat exhaustion is treated by resting in bed away from the heat and drinking cool liquids.

In hot weather:—The best precaution is to remain indoors in an air-conditioned room. If your home is not air-conditioned, you might go to a cool public place (like a library, movie theater, or store) during the hottest hours.

Other good ways to cool off include taking baths or showers, placing icebags or wet towels on the body, and using electric fans (being careful to avoid getting electrical shock). In addition, it is wise to:

- Stay out of direct sunlight and avoid strenuous activity.
- Wear lightweight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing that permits sweat to evaporate.
- Drink plenty of liquids of water, fruit and vegetable juices, and iced tea to replace the fluids lost by sweating. Try not to drink alcoholic beverages or fluids that have too much salt, since salt can complicate existing medical problems, such as high blood pressure. Use salt tablets only with your doctor's approval.
- Above all, take the heat seriously, and don't ignore danger signs like nausea, dizziness, and fatigue.

Senior Community Service Program workers at Telstar

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program and the Telstar Regional High School guidance office have become work sites for the Senior Community Service Program through the University of Maine Cooperative Extension Service. Two part-time positions have been approved which will provide each office with a 20-hour per week secretary/receptionist. Muriel Butters will be working with the Adult and Community Education program and Thelma Remington will join the guidance office staff. Mrs. Butters has been working at the school since March through the senior employment program and Mrs. Remington will join the staff on July 23. Both women are long-time residents of the area, and Telstar Principal Ted Davis and Adult Education Director Cathy Newell are delighted to welcome them to SAD #44.

The Senior Community Service Program is an employment and training program for people over 55, funded by the U.S. Department of Labor and administered from Washington by the National Council on the Aging. The program gives mature workers a chance to reach new work-related and personal goals as they work at non-profit agencies in their communities. Eligibility for the program is determined by the Maine Job Service, and anyone who might be interested in the SCSP program should contact Paul Gilbert at the Rumford Job Service Office. Other SCSP work sites in the Bethel area in the Bethel Area Health Center and the Bethel Town Office. In addition, another sponsoring agency, Green Thumb, operates work sites at the Bethel Historical Society and the Bethel Library.

James A. Fiske of the class of 1990 at Bowdoin College recently received varsity numerals in baseball for the spring sports season.

OHMPAA announces tryouts for 'The Mikado'

OHMPAA (Oxford Hills Music and Performing Arts Association) is pleased to announce tryouts for its fall production, The Mikado, by Gilbert and Sullivan, which will go on stage Oct. 9 and 10. Auditions will be held in the music room, top of the ramp, Second Congregational Church of Norway (across from the Guy E. Rowe School). Times of tryouts are 7 to 9 p.m., Monday, July 20, and Wednesday, July 22. Callbacks will be held Thursday, July 23 at the same location. Persons wishing to audition should, if possible, bring a copy of a rapid upbeat showtune of their choice from any show to sing. Please be prepared to read from the score of The Mikado, a timeless musical comedy sure to be enjoyed thoroughly by cast, crew, and audiences of the Oxford Hills region. There are several main roles as well as a number of choral or chorus roles. OHMPAA is also requesting that anyone interested in technical aspects of the production: i.e., make-up, costumes, lighting, stage manager, please stop by the tryouts long enough to meet the directors and fill out the information sheet.

Rehearsals for The Mikado will be held beginning on Aug. 9, on Monday and Wednesday evenings with several Saturday and/or Sunday afternoon afternoons/evening rehearsals to be scheduled in the latter portion of the rehearsal weeks. Anyone who cannot make a commitment to attempt attendance at all rehearsals are requested by OHMPAA to refrain from auditioning.

Friday Flicks at the Bethel Library

Friday Flicks is a movie program for children at the Bethel Library. Every "show" begins at 7 p.m., and last approximately 45 minutes. Parents are welcome, too; in fact, if children are under school age the library would appreciate that a parent, babysitter, or other adult accompany them. Come and enjoy movies on the big screen!

The remainder of this summer's Friday Flick schedule is as follows:

July 17: Madeline; Caterpillar; Farm Animals in Rhyme.
July 24: Cockabody; Changes, Changes; Chick, Chick, Chick.
July 31: Rosie's Walk; Wilbur's Story; The Strange Story of the Frog who Became a Prince.
Aug. 7: Where the Wild Things Are; Tchou, Tchou; Oh Brother, My Brother.
Aug. 14: Strega Nona; Clay; The Ugly Duckling.
Aug. 21: Seadrums; Magic Balloons; One Kitten for Kim.

FRANKLIN GRANGE

Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond held a nature study night on Monday, July 6. There was a small crowd because of the hot night. There were visitors from Oxford and Mystic Valley Granges, and from Winthrop Grange in New Hampshire. Franklin is always glad to have members of neighboring granges drop in. The program included "Home on the Range," with the faithful Dot Canwell at the piano; slides of birds and animals were shown by the lecturer; closing thought—Remember This; song, "Show Me the Way to Go Home"; Harry Boyer sang two songs.

Would you like to go some place? Here are some dates to mark on your calendar: July 11, Winthrop Grange will have neighbors' night; July 18, Rumford Grange is holding an open house for a bi-centennial program; July 25, Pomona Fair at Harrison, 1 p.m. to evening program; Aug. 13, Franklin Grange and Woodstock Historical Society are having a variety show together—don't miss it; Sept. 5, triple installation for West Paris, Sherman and Rumford Granges (Wayne Sherman and staff will do the work). The charter was draped for Rowena Dunham who had recently passed away. Ethel Wyman McKenzie is in Ledgeview Nursing Home recuperating from surgery.

The next meeting of Franklin Grange will be July 20. Charlotte Cole will be the master for ladies' night. Visiting grangers are always welcome.

Edgecomb sculptor
Oxford County

At the invitation of the Western Maine Art Group and the Lajes Malaisey Art Center, artist Gil Whitman of Edgecomb will mount a one-man exhibition of sculpture at the Art Center in Norway, July 21 through Aug. 1. This will be an encore show for Gil, his last exhibit there in 1976, was a great success. According to Gil, "It was like a real homecoming for me. Just about everyone came and we broke all records for attendance. I look forward to seeing all those nice people again."

A long-time resident of Bryant Pond, Whitman was very active throughout Oxford County in many capacities, including two terms at state representative from South Paris, West Paris, and Woodstock. Some may remember him as the Oxford County 4-H Club Agent, or perhaps as the bass singer in the "Balladeers," a once-popular barbershop quartet. Gil also operated several retail businesses in Locke Mills and Bryant Pond.

Since relocating in Edgecomb to establish his sculpture studio and gallery, Whitman has been most successful. His work has been well received across the country and he has exhibited widely throughout the northeast. Gil is best known for a major work commissioned by the Philadelphia Flyers hockey team.

The 20 foot high sculpture in bronze of two hockey players in a dynamic action pose was the Flyers' gift to the city of Philadelphia in observance of the Bicentennial, and may be seen situated outside of the Spectrum in Philadelphia.

The Norway Art Center show will open July 21 with a reception for the artist from 6 to 8 p.m. Entitled "The Blooming Sculpture of Gil Whitman," the exhibition will feature a collection of willow-wood sculptures in welded bronze with numerous other floral motifs and recent works. "I have done all kinds of subjects," says Whitman, "also I keep getting larger and larger scale. You might say that my work is really blooming."

FIRE, CAUSED BY LIGHTNING and fanned by strong winds, burned down the barn of the Chapman Homestead in Gilstead, on the Northwest Bethel Road, last Friday afternoon. The heat from the blaze was so intense it blistered the vinyl siding on the home of Sam and Geneva McCoy, which is just to the left of the photo. Only one horse was in the barn when the fire erupted, and he bolted to safety. Firefighters from Bethel and Gilstead contained the blaze, which drew a large crowd of onlookers. The original home of the Chapman Homestead was destroyed by fire on Christmas Day in 1969.

PRODUCTIONS OF "MISS JULIE"

AND "PETER RABBIT" AT
UPSON PLAYHOUSE JULY 18-19

The Upson Playhouse at the Hammons House, on Broad St. in Bethel, will present Miss Julie, a 1907 adaptation of Strindberg's classic as their picnic play on Saturday, July 18 at 1 p.m. and Sunday, July 19 at 12:30 p.m. The designated times allow patrons to bring their picnics, relax and eat at the Hammons House gardens for a half-hour to 45 minutes before the play begins. Fruit, pastries and beverages may be purchased at the box office.

Beatrix Potter's Peter Rabbit will also be presented on July 18, at 10 a.m. and on July 19, at 3 p.m. Saturday's presentations will be in honor of Bethel's annual Mollycoddle Day celebration. Children will have an opportunity to hear the story read and then act out their own special version of the tale using creative dramatization under the guidance of the Upson Players artistic director, Pamela

Bailey Powers.

The Players, who include actors Joy Chessna, David Gert, Michael Pedersen, and Tina Young, with Bailey Powers, have updated Miss Julie. Their intent is to emphasize the sexual relationship between the leading man and woman, to use modern language and expressions and music. Unit includes Philip Glass and Paul Simon's "Changing Opinions" and Kate Bush's "Feed Me."

Bailey Powers states: "We use a chorus of dancers whose moves are more reminiscent of such modern masters as Martha Graham and Alwin Nikolais than the Scandinavian folk dances suggested by Strindberg. Our production includes a new ending that serves as a rebirth to the playwright's misogyny." Miss Julie is recommended for adults only. The Upson Playhouse would like to publicly thank Rick Whitney and Barbara Douglas for sponsoring children at the July 13 performance, the Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond for their generous dinner invitation and the chance to meet Elderhostel participants, Vicky MacSaffie for her wonderful Peter Rabbit posters and Stan Howe for his assistance.

Anyone wishing to host one or more of the actors for supper between the hours of 5-7 p.m. should contact Sally Robinson at 824-5170. Anyone wishing to sponsor a child or group of children for Children's First Theatre performances, please contact Sally.

Tickets for children are $2.50, and tickets for the picnic plays are $5. All shows—rain or shine.

Anthony M. Butters, son of Muriel E. Butters of Bethel, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of first lieutenant. Butters is a pilot at McChord Air Force Base, Wash., with the 4th Military Airlift Wing. He received an associate in 1985 from UMO.
